

Space Science Exploration

GSNIM is home to a GSUSA/NASA Reach for the Stars astronomy club! The Pleiades Astronomy Club is working to provide space science education to girls throughout council. To achieve this goal, they created a website full of stellar activities! Take some time to explore the site; the first 50 to complete these questions and return it to the club will receive a free patch!

1. Please visit <https://sites.google.com/view/pleiades-astronomy-club/home>. What level Girl Scout are you, and which step is covered on your badge page?

2. Our club is named the Pleiades Astronomy Club. Research the Pleiades star cluster...why do you think we chose that name?

3. Pick an activity from your favorite topic on the More Stellar Activities page. Have a parent take a photo of you doing the activity, and include the photo with the completed form.

4. Is there a fun fact or space science activity you would like to share? We will be including information shared by the GSNIM community - what would you like to add?

We would like to see space science across our council! Would you be interested in learning more about creating opportunities in your area?

- Yes, I would like to lead a club in my area, and my zip code is _____
- Yes, I would like to attend club meetings in my area, and my zip code is _____
- Yes, I am interested in attending special events only, and my zip code is _____

Please send your completed form to gsastronomyclub@gmail.com. If you are one of the first 50 to respond, you will receive one of the FREE fun patches shown above!

Please share your name and mailing address here, so we may mail your patch:
